

ANTENNA DISCONNECTION PROCEDURE

Related product: XT, XV, XT-IP, XV-IP and XTO panels

This procedure will help you detach the panel's internal GPRS antenna without damaging or tearing the welded connectors of the electronic board.

1 – Gently push the coaxial cable in order to slightly tilt forward the connector.

2 – Please use a large standard (flat) screwdriver, and place under the horizontal and rigid end of the connector.

3 – Turn the screwdriver to lift and unclip the coaxial connector, then clip on your external GPRS antenna in order to boost your reception.
